Purely Business!

The columns of a newspaper represent a cash value. No publisher can afford to give advertising "nothing" free any more than a merchant can lose out on his customer's "nothing" for goods or shoes. A newspaper is a legitimate business concern. Its columns are its stock in trade, and no matter in what part of the paper they appear.

Our Christmas Gifts To Our Patrons.

Owing to the generous patronage our friends accorded us this fall, which in plain English means we sold a great many goods, we were enabled recently to close out several large lots of clothing at prices that will make us a little money and save you a good deal.

Today we put on sale 150 well-made and trimmed fashionably-cut dark Oxford Melton Overcoats, sizes 34 to 44, at $3.

Today we put on sale 135 fine English black and blue Kersey Overcoats. Some of them are cut long, some of them are cut short, but not as short as the price. They go at $7.75. When you look at them you will see what we mean by the headlines of this advertisement.

Today we put on sale 56 all-wool black Cheviot and Worsted Children's two-piece Suits, sizes 6 to 15-year-old. They are worth at wholesale $4. In our Christmas gift offering sale you get them for $2.40.

The prices for above lots are CASH—spot cash.

As the month progresses watch our advertisements. We are going to do the biggest month's business in the history of our house. For a Christmas gift to your brother or someone else's brother there is nothing more suitable than a nice Smoking Jacket. We have a beautiful line. Call in and see them.

ANOTHER ASSIGNMENT.

Firm of Martin Bros. Executes a Deed of Trust to Mr. George W. Sulzer.

Yesterday about 11 o'clock a deed of trust was filed in the County Clerk's office, conveying the stock, fixtures, &c., of Martin Bros. to Mr. George W. Sulzer for the benefit of their creditors.

No schedule of either assets or liabilities is given.

Mrs. Maria Duffield Cochran entertained a coterie of her friends yesterday afternoon from 3 till 6, the function being a tea to honor Miss Sarah Grundy of Lebanon, who is a visitor to relatives in our city. The stylish old January home was regal in ante-bellum attire, exquisite flowers and greens, accentuating the beautiful furnishings of parlor, library and dining room, through which moved a bery of bolles entrancingly beautiful indeed. The receiving line was headed by the perfect hostess, who sheds her favors and bestows her attentions in true, unstinted style. Next was Miss Grundy, a remarkably handsome girl, fresh from school and with all that chic, brilliancy and grace which wins her friends and draw around her society's favorites in every circle or realm. Misses Pickett, Misses January and Miss Johnson were charmingly winning in gown of loveliest hue, while the greetings and honors by them extended made the time fairly busy with gladness and good cheer.

An elegant lunch was served during the hours which fitted all too fast upon this beautiful social occasion.

Mrs. William F. Hall entertained the Afternoon Euchre Club yesterday. The Hall mansion is spacious, elegant and well appointed, but with its addition of palms, chrysanthemums, roses and pinks the whole lower floor was en fete in redolent flowers, brilliant lights and gay with accompanying music, which made it more the bower and which sylphs and Venuses might move when wooing the God of Pleasure. Eight tables were occupied by the contesting players, who spiritedly shuffled, dealt, passed and "went alone" until the last ring of the silver bell made cards vanish for refreshments. A summing up of the score cards gave forth the following results, to whom in their order prizes were awarded: Mrs. C. C. Hopper, first prize; Mrs. C. Ed. Geisel, booby prize; Mrs. Walter S. Watson, guest's prize; all of which were very beautiful and costly. At the lunch tables refreshments were served, over which the exultantly gowned women chattered for a brief season, a relaxing delight from the exciting game in which they had indulged. Mrs. Hall makes an ideal hostess, full of those gracious amenities which give true happiness to every guest and make her home a charming dell of hospitality, joy and lingering pleasure.

Wedding Presents.

We are now on the threshold of the great wedding season. It is now that almost daily our attention is called by a dainty invitation to the fact that some of our friends are to be married. Each invitation means a present. Have you put your thoughts on the subject? If not, follow us a few minutes. There are in our store hundreds of articles absolutely correct for wedding presents and with prices ranging from one dollar or so up to hundreds of dollars. As thought directs us let us suggest Watches, Silverware, Clocks, Onyx Tables, Lamps, Cut Glass, Bricabrac, Carving Sets, Pearl Handle Knives, Silver Toilet Sets, Bronzes, Spoons, Forks, Berry Dishes, Game Sets, &c.

From the great assembly here of handsome articles, suitable for wedding presents, you'll be able to select just the article you have in mind.

The Henry M. Stanley passed up for Pomeroy last night.

The Alice Brown, with a big tow for the South, passed down last night.

The Will J. Cummins will return to the Cincinnati and Wheeling trade next Wednesday.

The famous whistle of the Telegraph is now on the Boston. The Boston will be the companion boat to the City of Louisville in the Cincinnati and Louisville trade until further notice. The whistle of the Telegraph has become so well known in the Louisville trade that Commodore Laidley decided at once to retain it in the trade. The famous whistle has been in constant use for nearly forty years.

The rise in the Ohio is now about here, and it is more than probable it will be falling by Sunday morning. However, heavy and extensive rains have fallen and are still falling in the South, and the prospects are there will be a wet spell in this valley for several days. In Kanawha the pools are being filled and coal towboats are making ready for a run. One thing is sure, packet water is promised all next week.

WE'RE FOR AMERICANS!

"The best way to get rid of a bad law is to enforce it."—General Grant.

There is the highest need for such men as Mr. HANNA, in the Senate, and the action of the Governor in appointing him, already approved by the State Convention, should now be indorsed by the people. The Republicans of Ohio must not be disappointed; the Republicans of the Nation must not be disappointed; the Republicans of the Senate must not be disappointed.—Senator Foraker in Campaign of 1897.

When it comes right down to brass tacks, isn't it ridiculous that three men have control of nearly all the official positions in this Government, and a majority of them men opposed to President McKinley's Administration, and appointed to their places for the sole reason that they were opposed to a Republican Administration?

THE LEDGER's friend of many years standing, Colonel WILL R. TOMLINSON of Hillsboro, O., is to take the lecture platform. His theme is "Fancy's Freaks." If Will only would tell his audience how he made the late Mr. ALLEN O. MYERS, Ohio's Democratic demagogue, fairly get down on his knees and apologize for the role reason that they were opposed to a Republican Administration!

He laughs both who laughs last. The Democratic statesmen were titling in their sneering during the consideration of the Dingley Law over the fact that a dozen or more countries had threatened to retaliate by extending our products from their ports in case this country again adopted a high tariff against their products. An examination of the books of the Treasury Department, however, shows that our exports to those countries in the first two months of the Dingley Law were far in excess of our exports to these same countries in the corresponding two months of last year under the Wilson Law.

THE day after the election of President McKinley, Captain H. H. STEWART of Kokomo, Ind., bought 170 ewes and went into the sheep business. He paid for the ewes $2.90 each, a total investment of $493. This summer he sold the wool clip for $212.50, and raised 168 lambs, increasing his flock to 338. A few days ago Captain STEWART was offered $7 each for his sheep, old and young, netting him $2,366. The wool clip added to this makes a total return of $2,859 from an investment of $493 in one year. And yet, according to the calamity howlers, there's no prosperity for the farmer under a Protective Tariff system.

ABOUT Youngstown, O., nearly 7,000 men in the limestone and iron trades benefit by the advance of wages which became operative December 1st. The limestone men to a total of 3,000 get a 30 per cent. advance, while the rise ordered by the Mahoning Valley Iron Manufacturers' Association, affecting nearly 4,000 employees, is 10 per cent. The wild-eyed calamity howler down street never heard of such things as these. He's too busy harping about the deficit in receipts from the Dingley Bill, which everybody knew would result during the first year of the new tariff, because of the immense importations under the Free-trade Wilson Law.

HALBERT HEARD FROM

Alleged Killer of Captain Hoobler in Lewis County.

VERY IMPORTANT IS IT TRUE. A Vanceburg special says the excitement over the celebrated Halbert-Hoobler tragedy, that had begun to smoulder, has again broken into a fierce blaze.

Mr. Thomas Jones and Mr. Thomas Richardson, both from the Southwestern part of the county, arrived in Vanceburg and scattered the startling report that H. D. Halbert, the alleged murderer of Hoobler, was in the neighborhood of Cottageville, being guarded and sheltered by relatives and friends.

The young men say that he does not attempt to conceal himself, but goes about heavily armed, and appears to suffer no apprehension of attempted arrest. The young men claim they are in the East of Cottageville, and that he speaks to them, calling each by his Christian name. They claim that he acted like a man who was half demoralized. It has been the permanent belief of a large majority that Halbert has been in Lewis county ever since he was last seen in Cincinnati on that memorable Thursday. That he is at no great distance is proved from the fact that he has communicated with one man in Vanceburg, who has exhibited the letter.

There is no question but that his decision to come back to the county was inspired by admirable discretion. In any other place he would run the risk of being captured, even though the taking would be fraught with the greatest peril to his life. The officers have never had the training requisite to cope with a man like Halbert. He could whip a dozen ordinary people, although with fists or gun. Many men openly express sympathy for Halbert, and it is believed that he could openly return to his home without running the risk of arrest.

That there would be a fatal ending to his trouble with Captain Hoobler who knew the circumstances expected.

WHAT GOOD SOCIETY IS.

A Circle of Pleasant People Who Are Interested in Each Other.

"The very best society is not composed of gilt and glitter," writes Ruth Ashmore of "The Social Position of the Home Works," in the December Ladies' Home Journal. "It is that circle of pleasant people who meet and visit because they are interested in each other. It asks of each member that she bring a pleasant personality if she wishes to be in and of it. The society recognized by the newspapers consists merely of a few people, who, having more money than the rest of the world, are able to make themselves more conspicuous, and so are kept constantly before the public. But all over this great country, in every city, town or little village, there is to be found good society, and it rests with the working girl herself whether she is in or out of it. If she has the best taste to prefer no people, whose idea of enjoyment is roughness, whose conception of conversation is late scandal, and who really have no reason for existing, then this girl will not only injure herself by her contact with such society, but she will injure every other girl who works. People are prone to judge a great regime by one member of it. Therefore, it behooves the girl who works to go into the best society or to find her pleasures in her own home."

8100—REWARD—8100.

The return of this paper will be pleased to learn that there is at least one detective who has been able to catch a criminal in all its stages, and that is Captain H. H. STEWART of Kokomo, Ind., who has been sworn out by the medical fraternity. Captain STEWART is a constitutional temper, requires a constitutional temper, and his temper is taken internally, acting directly on the blood and mucous surfaces of the system, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease, and giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work. The proprietors have found that this medicine has powers that they offer One Hundred Dollars for any case that it fails to cure. Send for full particulars.

CHRISTINE BRADLEY

WILL Christian the Battle Ship Kentucky—The Claims of Miss Richardson. WASHINGTON, Dec. 3.—Miss Christine Bradley will break a bottle of champagne on the battle ship Kentucky when launched at Newport News next month. The claims of Miss Richardson to that honor was acquired into by Secretary Long Thursday. No record could be found of any selection having been made by ex-Secretary Herbert, and after giving the matter no little consideration, the secretary of the navy ruled that the custom is to allow the governor of a state for which the battle ship is named to select the sponsor, unless a formal offer of the ship to the navy is made. Gov. Bradley, Ky. This closes the incident.

DORA CLAY

Very Anxious to Return to White Hall and Her Husband. VALLEY VIEW, Ky., Dec. 3.—Mrs. Clara Clay was reported better Thursday. Late Wednesday night William Bryant was sitting by Mrs. Clay's bedside, where he has been most of the time since she has been sick. She suddenly got tired of him and ordered him away. Her brother told her if Will could not sit by her side no one else could, and she would have to do the best she could. Gen. Clay sent word to William Richardson again Thursday to leave the county. Richardson says he is not going, and gets very angry when spoken about it. The general sent his wife $25 Thursday and word that if she did not want to stay at Clara's she could go any place she wished, and he would have good care taken of her. She will undoubtedly return to White Hall as soon as she is able, for she has many times said since she has been sick, "I am going back to White Hall soon as I am able."

Showered Jewish Shopkeepers with Throwing Illuminated Grenades in Their Windows—Barrage Firing Upon a Body of Police on the Avenue.

VIENNA, Dec. 3.—It is evident that the standstill was not proclaimed a moment too soon at Prague. Well-dressed men, it is said, rode on bicycles through the city and suburbs making a mockery of the German police for attack, and the work of the rioters being one in accordance with these ideas, and in many places simultaneously, only prevention was almost impossible.

Goldsmiths and jewelers' show cases were emptied in a few minutes. Women carried baskets to take home their contents of furniture and provision stores, while furriers and other articles of luxury to the city were widely destroyed. If the troops had not used their swords and bayonets freely Prague might have been burned from end to end.

One of the Best.

Army and Navy Building, D. C. One of the best equipped systems of railway in the United States is the Cincinnati, Hamilton and Dayton. This line is the "C. H. & D." This line seems to be enjoying the lion's share of Army and Navy travel. They have recently put through train between Washington and Cincinnati, and the train leaving Washington at 11:45 a. m. and arriving in Chicago the following day at noon. They also have a train between Washington and Cincinnati, where they connect with their own system to Chicago. Some time ago they had a number of trains between Chicago and Cincinnati to eight hours, which is one of the fastest trips made in this country. Our extractions of service between Chicago and Cincinnati is equipped with compartment cars that are models of elegance and speed. This train has Army patronage and always extends every accommodation possible to officers traveling over their line and it is a wonder that they get the service patronage. They offer to their patrons the best line between Washington and Chicago, Toledo or Detroit. Mr. G. Edwards, Passenger Agent at the depot, at Cincinnati, Ohio, will be very glad to give any additional information concerning the "C. H. & D. Route" to tell you what it is.

Roads to Extended Service of the C. H. & D.

The Cincinnati, Hamilton and Dayton Passenger Department has effected a business improvement in many ways. Passenger Traffic Manager D. G. Edwards last evening, in connection with business men and during the fullest season experienced by roads in years he had extended his service in three ways.

"The Hamilton connection over the I. D. and W. and the Wabash," said he, "has been a most beneficial one. Our extractions of service have been to either meet competition or to reach out into new fields. I found that the Hamilton field was one not reached by Cincinnati, and the city and towns along the Mississippi River, Quincy, Dubuque, Hannibal and others, had not through sleeping car connections to Cincinnati. Our new line, therefore, informed me that they thought it necessary to be routed via St. Louis. The owners of our company about the I. D. and W. and the Wabash saw an easy way of making an extension into the Western territory.

"Our routes via the I. D. and W. and the Wabash is the shortest to Kansas City and Denver and other points. There has been a marked improvement in the business from this territory ever since the line has been opened, and the car service is being better met than ever before. We intend to make another extension via the I. D. and W. At Rock Island we connect with the Monon for Chicago. This service will be of great value to the business men with Crawfordville, Lafayette, and other Indiana towns. Our last monthly statement showed that our business was handled over 1,300 interurban passengers.

"Our other extension of service was that from St. Louis and Baltimore to Washington and other Eastern points. We originally ran a through sleeping car service, but because of business and the demands of the public have just finished in placing a through day coach on this line. We have thus brought our first first-class second-class train to Cincinnati. These extensions have been made within the last fortnight, notwithstanding the fact that the winter season is upon us, and have been successful. Now we feel more than ever confident, because the increased business is good."

One of the Best.

Army and Navy Building, D. C. One of the best equipped systems of railway in the United States is the Cincinnati, Hamilton and Dayton. This line is the "C. H. & D." This line seems to be enjoying the lion's share of Army and Navy travel. They have recently put through train between Washington and Cincinnati, and the train leaving Washington at 11:45 a. m. and arriving in Chicago the following day at noon. They also have a train between Washington and Cincinnati, where they connect with their own system to Chicago. Some time ago they had a number of trains between Chicago and Cincinnati to eight hours, which is one of the fastest trips made in this country. Our extractions of service between Chicago and Cincinnati is equipped with compartment cars that are models of elegance and speed. This train has Army patronage and always extends every accommodation possible to officers traveling over their line and it is a wonder that they get the service patronage. They offer to their patrons the best line between Washington and Chicago, Toledo or Detroit. Mr. G. Edwards, Passenger Agent at the depot, at Cincinnati, Ohio, will be very glad to give any additional information concerning the "C. H. & D. Route" to tell you what it is.

Roads to Extended Service of the C. H. & D.

The Cincinnati, Hamilton and Dayton Passenger Department has effected a business improvement in many ways. Passenger Traffic Manager D. G. Edwards last evening, in connection with business men and during the fullest season experienced by roads in years he had extended his service in three ways.

"The Hamilton connection over the I. D. and W. and the Wabash," said he, "has been a most beneficial one. Our extractions of service have been to either meet competition or to reach out into new fields. I found that the Hamilton field was one not reached by Cincinnati, and the city and towns along the Mississippi River, Quincy, Dubuque, Hannibal and others, had not through sleeping car connections to Cincinnati. Our new line, therefore, informed me that they thought it necessary to be routed via St. Louis. The owners of our company about the I. D. and W. and the Wabash saw an easy way of making an extension into the Western territory.
